

QUEENSLAND STATE LEGISLATION THAT MAY BE USED AGAINST GROUPS WHICH SHOW CULT-LIKE BEHAVIOUR.

Harms associated with cultic groups have been addressed through various forms of self-help, conservatorship, habeas corpus proceedings, consumer protection legislation, and litigation. Cases indicate that self-proclaimed religious organizations are heading towards a time of greater accountability. Juries tend to be sympathetic toward plaintiffs, though courts seem unwilling to enforce judgments so large they threaten a group's existence.

This document briefly surveys some relevant legislation from the State of Queensland, Australia. Legislation will differ in other jurisdictions, but many of the same principles will apply.

There is no relevant Australian Federal or State law enforcement legislation, which applies specifically to cults. Therefore we must look at the policy, procedures and actions of cults to ascertain the relevant law enforcement legislation, which may apply.

This document was prepared by a law student whose child was affected by a cult, and adapted for future reference by friends of the Cult Information Service.

UNLAWFUL STALKING

Criminal Code Act 1899 (incorporating the Criminal Code)

Section 359A. Definitions for ch 33A

In this chapter—

“detriment” includes the following—

- (a) apprehension or fear of violence to, or against property of, the stalked person or another person;
- (b) serious mental, psychological or emotional harm;
- (c) prevention or hindrance from doing an act a person is lawfully entitled to do;
- (d) compulsion to do an act a person is lawfully entitled to abstain from doing.

The above definitions seem to fit nicely in the affects of cult harassment.

If a group you suspect may be a cult is harassing you, calling you or visiting you despite repeated requests that they desist, it may be possible to take legal action.

Section 359B. What is unlawful stalking

“Unlawful stalking” is conduct—

- (a) intentionally directed at a person (the “stalked person”); and
- (b) engaged in on any 1 occasion if the conduct is protracted or on more than 1 occasion; and
- (c) consisting of 1 or more acts of the following, or a similar, type—
  - (i) following, loitering near, watching or approaching a person;
  - (ii) contacting a person in any way, including, for example, by telephone, mail, fax, e-mail or through the use of any technology;
  - (iii) loitering near, watching, approaching or entering a place where a person lives, works or visits;
  - (iv) leaving offensive material where it will be found by, given to or brought to the attention of, a person;
  - (v) giving offensive material to a person, directly or indirectly;
  - (vi) an intimidating, harassing or threatening act against a person, whether or not involving violence or a threat of violence;
  - (vii) an act of violence, or a threat of violence, against, or against property of, anyone, including the defendant; and
- (d) that—
  - (i) would cause the stalked person apprehension or fear, reasonably arising in all the circumstances, of violence to, or against property of, the stalked person or another person; or
  - (ii) causes detriment, reasonably arising in all the circumstances, to the stalked person or another person.

Section 359E. Punishment of unlawful stalking

(1) A person who unlawfully stalks another person is guilty of a crime.

(2) A person who commits the crime of unlawful stalking is liable to a maximum penalty of imprisonment for 5 years.

(3) However, a person is liable to a maximum penalty of imprisonment for 7 years if, for any of the acts constituting the unlawful stalking, the person—

(a) uses or intentionally threatens to use, violence against anyone or anyone's property; or

(c) contravenes or intentionally threatens to contravene an injunction or order imposed or made by a court or tribunal under a law of the Commonwealth or a State.

Section 359F. Court may restrain unlawful stalking

(1) This section applies on the hearing before a court of a charge against a person of unlawful stalking.

(2) Whether the person is found guilty or not guilty or the prosecution ends in another way, if the presiding judge or magistrate considers it desirable, the judge or magistrate may constitute the court to consider whether a restraining order should be made against the person.

(3) The judge or magistrate may act under subsection (2) on application by the Crown or an interested person or on the judge's or magistrate's own initiative.

(4) Also, if the restraining order proceeding is started before the Supreme Court or the District Court, the court may order the proceeding to be transferred to a Magistrates Court.

(5) If a court makes an order under subsection (4), the registrar of the court must send to the clerk of the relevant Magistrates Court a copy of the order and the record of proceedings of the hearing of the charge and any application mentioned in subsection (3).

(6) The court hearing the restraining order proceeding may make a restraining order against the person in relation to any person or any property if it considers it desirable to do so having regard to the evidence given at the hearing of the charge and any application under subsection (3) and any further evidence the court may admit.

(7) A restraining order may be varied or revoked at any time by the court, and, if the order provides, by another court.

(8) A person who knowingly contravenes a restraining order commits an offence.

Maximum penalty—40 penalty units or 1 year's imprisonment.

(9) A restraining order may be made against a person whether or not another order is made against the person in the proceeding for the charge.

(10) A restraining order proceeding is not a criminal proceeding.

(11) A question of fact for a decision under subsection (2) and in a restraining order proceeding must be decided on the balance of probabilities.

Evidentiary requirements are spelled out in Section 359B and 359F (11) Above

Recommended action:

Police should be immediately notified or your family doctor if any distress is caused. Even if distress is not caused, you can warn the appropriate person of stalking laws and request that they stop approaching you.

Responsive policing is the only way of handling this situation. If aggressive or oppressive policing were used, it could lead to discrimination issues against a group, so police can only help when asked.

If the community were educated to use these laws on a regular basis, then after a time, it may become preventative policing.

SHODDY GOODS, SERVICES, SEMINARS, TRINKETS.

Fair Trading Act 1989 Part 2B

For this act to be effective, we have to draw the bow a little, but it has had good results in the USA, which can be used as a persuasive argument: Molko v. Holy Spirit Association, George v. International Society for Krishna Consciousness, and Wollersheim v. Church of Scientology.

Trade or commerce is when ANY item is requested to receive a service.

When a person requests items for a purpose, then they become a representative of that group.

Also, many cults hierarchy, are a registered organization of some kind for tax purposes. (Mostly for avoidance thereof.)

Remember, its all about power and or money.

Many cults involve the supply of services or token goods. Some cults have offered, for example, vials of water, for sale at exorbitant prices, or “seminars”, “training programs”, “personality tests” etc. These goods and services should be covered under this act.

Section 38. Misleading or deceptive conduct—TPA s 52

(1) A person shall not, in trade or commerce, engage in conduct that is misleading or deceptive or is likely to mislead or deceive.

Section 39. Unconscionable conduct—TPA s 51AB

(1) A supplier shall not, in trade or commerce, in connection with the supply or possible supply of goods or services to a person (the “customer”), engage in conduct that is, in all the circumstances, unconscionable.

(2) Without limiting the matters to which regard may be had for the purpose of determining whether a supplier has contravened subsection (1) in connection with the supply or possible supply of goods or services, regard may be had to—

(b) whether, because of conduct engaged in by the supplier, the customer was required to comply with conditions that were not reasonably necessary for the protection of the legitimate interests of the supplier; and

(d) whether any undue influence or pressure was exerted on, or any unfair tactics were used against, the customer (or person acting on behalf of the customer) by the supplier or a person acting on behalf of the supplier in relation to the supply or possible supply of the goods or services; and

Section 40. False or misleading representations—TPA s 53 (Cth)

A person shall not, in trade or commerce, in connection with the supply or possible supply of goods or services or in connection with the promotion by any means of the supply or use of goods or services—

- (a) falsely represent that goods are of a particular standard, quality, value, grade, composition, style or model or have had a particular history or particular previous use; or
- (b) falsely represent that services are of a particular standard, quality, value or grade; or
- (d) falsely represent that a particular person has agreed to acquire goods or services; or
- (e) represent that goods or services have sponsorship, approval, performance characteristics, accessories, uses or benefits they do not have; or
- (f) represent that the person has a sponsorship, approval or affiliation the person does not have; or
- (g) make a false or misleading representation concerning the price of goods or services; or
- (i) make a false or misleading representation concerning the place of origin of goods; or
- (j) make a false or misleading representation concerning the need for any goods or services; or
